WANZA L. RUH, age 103, passed away peacefully on April 1, 2021 at the Pelican Garden Assisted Living Facility in Sebastian, FL where she had been living since 2016.

She was the daughter of the late Barnett and Zola (Smith) Musick of Scottsville, VA. Wanza was married to Martin A. Ruh of the Bronx in 1936, and soon after, they relocated to Interlaken, NY. She worked as a waitress at two well-known area restaurants, the Cayuga Inn and the Happy Landing. Her last employment was for Newark Developmental Center as a Community Residence Aide in Interlaken.

Although having no formal religious affiliation, she attended Bible studies and was a devout believer in her Lord Jesus. Politically and environmentally savvy, she opposed any causes that were potentially harmful to our world. She will be fondly remembered as being kind and generous, and placing the needs of others above her own. She loved music, and was self-taught in playing the guitar and harmonica. A skilled artist who enjoyed painting and woodcarving, she left behind many precious works of art for others to enjoy.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Martin Ruh, brother and sister-in-law, Victor and Edna Musick, sister, Addis Phillips and nieces Jacqueline and Sharon Phillips. Survivors include her daughters, Vicky (Andy) Anderson, Vero Beach, FL, Bonnie (Don) Ellsworth Ovid, NY; three grandsons, Tom (Cindy) Royce, Wilkes-Barre, PA, Mike (Cheryl) Royce, Corning, NY, and Kevin (Michele) Kincaid, Jupiter, FL; great grandchildren, Keith, Bradley and Sara Kincaid, and Caleb (Lindsey), Alanis and Elias Royce.

She will be laid to rest at Fairview Cemetery in Sheldrake at a later time.

Obituary

CAROLYN COGAN, beloved mother, grandmother, sister, wife, daughter, aunt, and friend, died on Easter Sunday, April 4, 2021 surrounded by her three loving daughters at Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Camden, New Jersey after a brief illness. She was 85 years old.

Born in 1935 in Syracuse, New York to John and Jessie Steves, Carolyn Marie Steves was the eldest of three children. She proved early on her spirited nature and love of learning and, inspired by her fascination with science and her own mother's nursing career, excelled as a private Catholic school student, put herself through nursing school at Crouse-Irving Hospital, and earned a degree as a registered nurse. She was proud of this accomplishment and told her daughters her years of nursing training were some of her happiest. She worked in a range of capacities, as a nurse for children at a summer camp and as a charge nurse at Lakeside Nursing Home in Ithaca, New York, but her favorite was obstetrics. She loved helping deliver babies.

While still in nursing school, she met Stewart Cogan on a blind date arranged by mutual friends. His arch sense of humor and mischief charmed her instantly, and they married less than a year later in September 1958, eventually settling in Trumansburg, New York, where they raised their three daughters and lived for more than 30 years.

Carolyn was an engaged and generous mother, unfailingly supportive of her children, volunteering in various roles, from elementary school room mother to religious education teacher. She shared an unshakable bond with her sister, put family above all else, and imbued her household with a sense of creativity, adventure, and fun, gifting her children a panoply of treasured memories. She loved animals and was easily persuaded to acquire over the years a menagerie of pets, from puppies, parakeets and rabbits to ducks, a hamster, and even a horse and pony. But she also imbued her household with a sense of civic duty, inspiring her children to appreciate the importance of political engagement and to embrace her values of charity, social justice, and compassion toward others. And, as a mother of three in the 1960s, she taught her young daughters they could be anything they wanted to be.

After relocating to Westmont, New Jersey, in 1996, she pursued a lifelong interest in art, an avocation in which she passionately engaged for more than 20 years. For inspiration, she turned to what she found most beautiful – flowers, birds, the beach – but especially her beloved grandchildren. She filled her home with art, and every wall became a visual feast. A student of Norma Chankin's Fine Art Studio for several years, she exhibited her work locally, with other members of the close-knit group.

An avid reader, Carolyn stacked her floor-to-ceiling shelves with books and covered wide literary ground, devouring popular and classic fiction, memoir, biography, history, and other genres. She was an armchair historian: World War II was a favorite subject. She loved opera, Sinatra, and classic film. She remained politically engaged throughout her life, donating faithfully to social causes for which she was passionate – children's medical research, gun control, Holocaust remembrance, and others.

Carolyn was preceded in death by her husband of nearly 37 years, Stewart, and her brother, John Steves. She is survived by her daughters, Elizabeth Cogan (Daniel Kohan) of Washington, DC, Leslie Prunty (Stephen) of Ithaca, New York, and Tracy Cogan (Peter Sanchez) of Westmont, New Jersey; her sister, Sr. Sue Ann Steves, IHM, of Scranton, PA; her grandchildren, Olivia, Jessica, and Peter Sanchez; and dozens of relatives and friends throughout New York, New Jersey, and elsewhere across the country.

Calling hours were held on Thursday, April 8, 2021 from 5:00pm to 7:00pm at the Ness-Sibley Funeral Home in Trumansburg, New York. A Mass of Christian Burial took place on Friday, April 9, 2021 at 11:00am at St. James Catholic Church in Trumansburg.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks that you consider a donation in Carolyn's memory to the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, Giffords PAC (in support of gun safety) or a similar organization of your choice.

For additional information, please contact Ness-Sibley Funeral Home at 607-387-8151, or visit www.ness-sibley.com

PETS / LIVESTOCK

PETS / LIVESTOCK

PETS / LIVESTOCK

IT HAS BEEN A WHILE SINCE WE TALKED ABOUT THIS STUFF: RAT POISON AND OUR PETS

Sometime around 2008, in their infinite wisdom, our United States Environmental protection agency mandated that rat poison manufacturers switch over to what the scientists call second generation toxins. Although still killing mice and rats and moles by having them bleed to death internally, they were much quicker than the old-fashion, first generation products. There was a problem, however, in that they had a longer biologically active time frame (they lasted longer in the environment) which made them lethal to the critters in the wild who ate mice and rats: wolves, coyotes, bobcats, owls, etc. As bad as this sounds, the products at least had an antidote that if administered quickly enough would save accidental victims.

That was the last of my knowledge of the situation. This weekend, while tending to a pair of dogs that accidentally ingested some poison the owner bought at Home Depot, I learned that things have gotten worst. The government now allows what are called third generation pesticides to be sold to the general public. These are very fast and effective in their action. However, as is the case with a vast majority of governmental actions, the products have one unintended consequence: they have NO antidote!!! (Fortunately, because the owner took quick action, as of this writing, the dogs still are alive.)

Plain and simple: rat and mouse poisons, as well as ant baits, or any other poison we put out into our home or farm environments can also kill our pets (and our children!) And that's that!!! Therefore, if you are going to use these products, you have to make sure of a few things: 1) Know what it is you are using. 2) Know what quantity did you start with. 3) Pay close attention and place the product in a location that Fido or Little Suzie has no chance of ever getting into it. The first warning is important because often the pet will frequently chew to oblivion the package containing the name/type of the poison, which makes it a guessing game for us veterinarians to unravel. The second is important because we can get a feel for how the pet's prognosis for recovery will be (or not be.) The third warning is self-evident once pet owners are aware of the lethal nature of these deadly killers. The key concept to keep in mind (and, again, it's logical once you think about it) is that the companies that make this stuff do everything in their power to make the poison flavorful, delicious, and appealing in order to get the intended victims to eat the product. And dogs (mostly it's dogs that eat these toxins) being the chow hounds they are, just love the taste of these poisons.

I now can hear the shouts and wailing and gnashing of teeth of my beloved readers: "OK, Doc, what do we do if our pet eats this stuff?" These poisons used to work mostly by preventing the animal's blood from clotting. In other words, the mouse or rat or other intended or unintended victim dies from internal bleeding. The new third generation products cause cerebral edema which makes the victims die of seizures and other neurological problems. If you see or suspect your dog of eating any of these products, you haven't got any time to fool around. You gotta call your vet or, if it's midnight, or a weekend, or Christmas, or if he is on one of his vacation, you have to call the 800-number listed on the package (which you so dutifully wrote down before placing the bait ?), or the National Poison Control Center.

The first thing I do when an owner calls is get the pet to vomit at its home. When this is accomplished, I have the owner bring the dog in for a vitamin-K (the antidote) injection plus or minus activated charcoal therapy. (Many new baits have NO antidote!) If this is done within the first half hour, the chances of success are excellent; if done within the first hour, the pet's chances are good; within two hours it's only fair; after two hours, without expensive intensive care at a medical center, your pet's life is over. After 12-24 hours, the pet starts bleeding at the nose, mouth and anus and soon dies an agonizing death. I've not yet experienced a pet who has died of the new third generation products.

We are back to regular hours:

Monday - Friday 10am-4pm
Saturday 10am-1pm

*Do you have 3 hours a month to spare?
We need a few more volunteers*

*We will be following state and local mandates.
Our store is continually sanitized, masks are required, sanitizer is available, and we ask that

SPRING AND SUMMER ITEMS ARE NOW ACCEPTED!
NO MORE FALL AND WINTER ITEMS!

Thank you for your continued patience.

To the person who took wood planks from 96A, across from Sampson State Park in Kendaia. It wasn't yours, no free sign. The wood was used to hold down the plastic, for our garden. Yeah the plastic your moved.
You are a low life and a piece of garbage. Have a good day and crawl back into your hole.
