SOUTH SENECA STORY

Each May, the public school districts in New York State bring an expenditure budget proposal to voters in the community for approval, and voting day this year is Tuesday, May 18. At South Seneca, we alternate the voting site between our two school buildings from year to year, and the 2021 location for in-person voting is the Middle-High School in Ovid, from 1-8 pm.

Residents have always had the option to vote by absentee ballot if there is any reason they cannot be there on the 18th, and for anyone who needs that ballot, please contact the District Office at 869-9636, extension 4147 to speak to our District Clerk about it. The standard requirement is simply that the completed ballot be returned to the Clerk before 5pm on the 18th.

Last year, the pandemic caused a movement into June for the voting, and a 100% absentee ballot process, but we are back in 2021 to an in-person voting day. Of course, voters can expect to go through a simple symptom screening process at the site, and election workers will manage protocols to secure the process and remain COVID safe.

For those who wish to see a final budget presentation from the district, and to get a chance to meet our five candidates for the four open Board of Education seats, we are pleased to be able to return also to an in-person budget hearing a week before voting day. The hearing is set for 7pm on Tuesday, May 11 in our Elementary (Interlaken) Auditorium.

It's a unique year at South Seneca for the Board of Education election. During 2020-21 there were two appointments on the board to fill vacant seats, so the election will determine who fills the remainder of those terms. Voters will be asked to vote for up to four candidates, and the order of finish will determine which candidates win the two three-year terms, but also who will take over those two other seats on May 19. The third-place finisher will serve in the seat with two years remaining, and the fourth place finisher will take the seat with one year remaining. We do not hold elections for particular individual seats; it is just the order of finish that determines who takes the various terms.

As always, we encourage all eligible residents to cast their votes on May 18, and to ask any questions you may have about the budget or the board elections ahead of time. Please look for the annual budget brochure to be delivered soon, and reach out if you need clarification on any aspect of the vote or the budget itself.

SOUTH SENECA SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION

candidate for re-election

Since first elected to the Board of Education four years ago, and now serving as Vice President, I have worked hard to support the students and you, the taxpayers. Currently I am a member of the Board's Policy Committee, the Negotiating Committee and the Buildings and Grounds Committee.

Goals and challenges--One of my goals has been to improve communication with the citizens. I was successful in encouraging Superintendent Zielinski to write a weekly column for the Shopper newspaper to convey both the challenges and accomplishments of the South Seneca schools. I hope this has given you a deeper understanding of the issues the schools have had to deal with. The challenges facing our School Board are many. In conjunction with my colleagues on the Board we have accomplished much, especially during this "pandemic" year that has presented enormous problems as well as some opportunities for dealing with the education of our students. I am proud of how we navigated these turbulent times. Hopefully, we are nearing the end of this stressful period.

Experience and service--Throughout my career I have been involved in education. I have taught at the college level, worked on the legislative staff at the Office of Management and Budget (part of the White House) and was instrumental in creating the Truman Scholarship Foundation, the official Federal memorial for the 33rd President. Prior to retirement, I was General Manager of radio station WETA, the NPR station in Washington, DC.

These uncertain times call for experience and leadership. If re-elected I promise you this: I care and I will listen. I ask for your vote and will continue to work hard to be worthy of your support. Thank you.

This year we return to in-person voting. Election Day is Tuesday, May 18. Voting will be held in the Lower Cafeteria of the High School in Ovid, from 1:00 to 8:00 pm.

The ballot will include the names of the candidates for election to the Board of Education. The top 4 candidates will be elected. The other major item on the ballot is your opportunity to approve or disapprove the proposed budget.

Kindly consider a donation in memory of Melvin to the South Seneca Ambulance Corps, 2011 Route 96A, Ovid, NY 14521.

Melvin was born on September 11, 1931 in Ovid, a son of the late Harry and Helen (Huff) Quinn. He was a 1949 graduate of Ovid Central School. Melvin worked at Willard State Hospital for 37 years, starting out as a kitchen helper then assistant cook, cook, and retiring as head cook on September 11, 1986.

He was a member of the Fingerlakes and Willard Chess Societies and the US Chess Federation where he played in many tournaments and individual matches. He loved sports and was an avid Yankees fan, past member of Bonavista Golf Course, and season ticket holder for Syracuse University football. Most of all, he enjoyed traveling, visiting 55 national parks, all 50 states, and 8 European countries.

Melvin is survived by his son, Richard "Rick" Quinn of Ovid; sister Dorothy Orme Scaggs of Lodi; and nieces Priscilla Cole and Jannaya Scott. In addition to his parents, Melvin was preceded in death by his wife of 49 years, Martha Quinn; a daughter, Cynthia Quinn; and mother in law, Louise Stout.

EAR INFECTIONS IN DOGS

In my day to day world of practicing veterinary medicine here in rural Trumansburg, I see pretty much the same problems over and over: diarrhea, crappy skin, bite wound abscesses in cats, impacted anal glands, etc. But one problem I see, hands down, rises above all others. And it's a problem that, literally, drives dogs crazy with pain and discomfort, it drives their owners insane because of the poor pet's incessant scratching and digging at all hours of the day and night, and it drives me absolutely bonkers trying to cure. It's a worldwide problem so desperate for a remedy, that the man/woman who finally discovers a reliable, reproducible, sure-fire cure for this disease will never have to work again; a grateful world will probably even start naming high schools after them. The disease I'm talking about is ear infections.

The causes of ear infections are multi-factorial (more than just one) and this aspect of the disease is what makes it so hard to cure. Besides the medical and genetic reasons that involve the dog itself, two of the biggest reasons I see that makes ear canal disease so difficult to fix is that many owners—for reasons known only to God—waste a lot of valuable time, money, and effort on treating for the pets for ear mites and, to insist on trying homemade/store-bought remedies before they bring their dog in to see me.

First off, I'd like to talk about ear mites. I don't know where or when the connection of itchy ears in dogs and ear mites came about in peoples' minds. These tiny critters ARE a common problem in puppies and kittens. Period!!! That's all!!! They are very, very uncommon in adult dogs and cats. In my twenty years of trying to make the world a better place for our pets, I can count the number of times I've found ear mites in dogs over one year of age on one hand.

And before I get started ranting about home remedies, I need to tell just a short story that, for me at least, says it all. For the ten-thousandth time in my career, I was asked by a dear lady about what I thought about diluted vinegar as a treatment for ear infections. She then proceeded to tell me about her mother-in-law who had treated her cocker spaniel's infection for years with it. Smiling, and as gently as I could, I then pointed out to her that if dilute vinegar had worked so well on her mother-in-law's cocker, why did she need to continue the therapy for years? I then proceeded to say—as I'm about to delicately communicate to you dear readers—that if vinegar or dilute vinegar or vinegar/rubbing alcohol mixture or hydrogen peroxide or alcohol/hydrogen peroxide mixture, and on and on and on worked reliably against ear infections, then some drug company would have patented it and would have made a fortune. And therein lies the key word: Reliably. One of the steadfast and staunchest foundations upon which the practice of medicine (either veterinary or human) is based upon is reproducibility. For a drug, or therapy, or treatment to be considered medically valid, its mode of action and results have to be reproducible; not necessarily 100% of the time (there are never any absolutes in medicine) but at least 96-99%.

And I'm going to run outta room soon and so I'll talk about how I diagnose and treat ear infections in my practice next time. But I'd like to close by telling a story from way back in the beginning of my practice regarding the most common cause of ear disease, that of yeast infections. A dear and compassionate client asked me about a cure her (again) mother-in-law (a nurse) had told her about as a treatment for yeast infections. It turns out that at the time, one of the folk-cures-of-the-day for women with urinary tract yeast infections was to consume large quantities of yogurt. The theory was that the acidophilous bacteria in the yogurt culture would make women's urine more acidic and thereby kill off the yeast as they voided. I told the owner that I didn't think yogurt therapy would work in her dog. I went on to explain that even though there might be a few dogs out there that are real poop-heads, it's not likely that any dog urinates out of their ears. Thank you again!
