The Ovid Thrift Store has been blessed with many wonderful donations. We want to thank everyone for their clean and good condition items.

We want to remind you that every penny we make, goes to Missions, both local and global.

We are sorry to say that lately we have had to purchase $4/bag dump tickets, because we are getting junk from people's yard sales.

A good rule of thumb is, if you wouldn't buy what you are leaving with us, we won't be able to sell it. Please take unwanted items to the dump yourself.

Thank You.

Obituary

In Loving Memory of JOHN C. KAVIS, 90, from Bradenton, FL, who passed away peacefully on August 10, 2022.

John was born to Charles and Helen Kavis of Bronx, NY on November 29, 1931. John was an avid sports fan who loved his Yankees and the NY Football Giants. He played AAA pro baseball for the then Brooklyn Dodgers until he was drafted during the time of the Korean War. His claim to fame was hitting a double off of Whitey Ford and winning a race to get an autographed baseball by Babe Ruth. John enjoyed golfing and bowling in his free time.

John attended Clinton high school in Bronx, NY and graduated from Brooklyn College of Pharmacy. He started his career as a pharmacist in Astoria, NY before moving to Ithaca, NY in 1964. In 1970 he bought and operated John's Pharmacy in Ovid, NY and then the Interlaken Apothecary Shop in Interlaken, NY. John also sat on the board of the First National Bank of Ovid. Upon selling the pharmacies, John went on to work as Director of Pharmacy at Willard State Hospital, at Newark Development Center and Mid-Hudson Psychiatric Center until he retired in 1998. After retirement John moved to Bradenton, FL to live close to his sons.

John is survived by wife Demetra (Deme) Kavis, wife of 63 years this August 30th and sons William (Diane) and Michael (Eleni). He has 5 grandsons and one granddaughter and 10 great grandchildren.

Viewing was held at St. Barbara Greek Orthodox Church, 7671 N. Lockwood Ridge Rd, Sarasota, FL Tuesday, August 16, 2022 at 10am. Service was held at the church at 11am followed by the burial at Sarasota National Cemetery in Sarasota, FL at 1:30pm. All donations made out to GOYA at Saint Barbara Greek Orthodox Church.

Condolences may be shared at www.rtsfunerals.com Manasota Chapel.

"HE JUST AIN'T ACTING RIGHT" ATTENTION ALL OWNERS OF MALE CATS: PLEASE, PLEASE, PLEASE READ AND SAVE THIS ARTICLE

WE ARE NOT ACCEPTING NEW CLIENTS OR ADMITTING FORMER CLIENTS WHO HAVE NOT BEEN INTO THE PRACTICE IN THE LAST THREE YEARS.

My wish is that everyone in the world who owns a male cat reads this article. You all can help me by showing this to your cat-owner friends who, in turn, can send it to their cat-owner friends, who can then send it on to their cat-owner friends. This story can also be found on my humble website which can then be easily forwarded to your cat owning friends. <http://www.worldsvet.com/blockedcat.htm>

Treasured readers, urethral obstruction is such an important topic that—HOLD ON TO YOUR HATS—I'm gonna get right to the point; no stories, no rambling, no bull-excrement, not even any presidential jokes!

There's a disease out there that I often see in male cats (and, rarely in females) known as urethral obstruction. A common expression that we veterinarians use for this condition is "being blocked." (Plugged-up, occluded, and obstructed are other words used to describe this disease.) With this disease, the male cat's penis literally becomes plugged-up (blocked) and then, because of this blockage, they can no longer pee.

Urethral obstruction (being blocked) is one of the few actual life-or-death emergencies that exist in veterinary medicine, and it can be diagnosed by your veterinarian in about a second just by feeling the poor guy's abdomen. Sadly, however, because it's such a very sneaky disease, most owners don't recognize the problem until it's too late. Death from urethral obstruction can occur within a day due to a ruptured bladder, metabolic disorders, kidney failure, or cardiac arrest. And this death is a painful, agonizing, death. If they're not tended to, these poor guys really hurt!

Symptoms of this disease show up in many ways. What most owners notice is that the cat seems to be spending a lot of time in the litter box and not actually doing anything. Sadly, many owners misinterpret this difficult elimination behavior as constipation or worms, and then waste precious hours trying to doctor the cat with laxatives, hairball, or worming medicine. Sometimes the cat just wants to hide behind the refrigerator or be left alone under a bed. Most of the time, however, the owner's only complaint is the cat "just ain't acting right." And to confuse the matter even more, these same symptoms can also be seen in simple bladder infections.

Treating this disease can be very challenging. The patient nearly always has to be put under anesthesia to be unblocked. Because of the possibility of damaged kidneys, this process alone can be life-threatening. Once under anesthesia, we will then try to dislodge the blockage through a combination of catheterizing and back-flushing. If this procedure is successful, an indwelling catheter (a tiny plastic or rubber pipe) is often inserted up the penis. This will allow the bladder to drain accumulated urine, which in turn will allow the bladder to heal itself.

Complications of this medical procedure are many. Some of these complications, but not all, are: not being able to unblock the poor kitty in the first place, becoming blocked again a day or two later, ending up with an atonic bladder (one that will no longer empty on its own), kidney failure, or urinary incontinence.

I can almost hear the question being asked, "So, Doc, what causes it?" And I know already that you're gonna be unhappy with my answer.

Despite what the cat food ads say, what the popular press and cat care books all say, or, what all the Internet armchair veterinarians say, the truth is that there is no one single cause. Over the years, the ash content of the various cat foods (both wet and dry) has been blamed, obesity has been blamed, bladder and kidney infections have been blamed, too early neutering has been blamed, too late neutering has been blamed, too much salt or too little salt have been blamed, the mineral content of one's well water has been blamed, and on and on. Again, no one knows for sure.

I knew you wouldn't be happy with this answer.

So, what can you do? By far, the most important thing you can do is just be aware that the problem exists and be watchful for it. Pay attention to your cat's habits. The earlier the treatment begins, the greater the chance of success. If you even vaguely suspect the problem, please don't waste time messing around with the home remedies. Hours are precious with this disease.
